CREATIVITY + COMMUNICATION

Creative thinking, effective dialogue and knowledge sharing is central to our work. This is achieved through listening, reflection, reasoning and clear communication.

We encourage a dynamic relationship with our clients and work collectively to achieve your aspirations.

We are open minded, adaptable and creative in our approach as we work with you to develop and deliver your brief with simple elegance.

DELIVERY

We are committed to delivering projects efficiently, economically and reliably, whilst concurrently ensuring that design excellence and architectural quality is maintained.

Our approach is to facilitate the formation of good working relationships and clear communication with clients, consultants, statutory bodies and contractors. We believe that this is paramount to successfully realising any construction project.

IN OUR CLIENTS' WORDS

Our work is best described by our clients. We have asked some of our recent clients to describe how they have found the process of working with us to deliver their projects. We have asked permission to share this information + contact details with you - should you wish to ask them anything about their experience.

RESTORATION + EXTENSION

CATEGORY B LISTED BUILDING - EDINBURGH

'Nick and Stephen are a real pleasure to work with. They listen carefully to the client brief and respond with inventive, elegant and thoughtful solutions. They pay fantastic attention to practical details but this is coupled with great aesthetic sense. They work hard in the pursuit of excellence and communicate well at every stage of the process. I can't recommend them highly enough.'

EXTENSION + ALTERATIONS

EDINBURGH

'We have thoroughly enjoyed partnering with Nick and Stephen on our project. They paid close attention to the brief we gave them, taking into account our ideas and needs as a family, and came up with an exceptional design. Their ideas and application took our project beyond our expectations and we are delighted with the progress and can't wait until the build is finished.

When appointing an architect to our project it was essential for us that we could rely on them for everything we needed, from the major decisions through to the finishing touches. What really impressed us with Nick and Stephen was that their drive and enthusiasm for our project was still there even after a year of working together.

During complex periods of our build, when unexpected issues arose, Nick and Stephen were instrumental in helping to ensure our project stayed on track. Their problem solving and project management skills are exceptional, and alongside their obvious skills as architects, we are delighted to have appointed them to our project.'

NEW BUILD DWELLING

NORTHERN IRELAND

'Mills + McCullough fulfilled our brief in a way we had not considered possible, creating a fluid series of spaces in response to our site while keeping the footprint within our limitations. Stephen and Nick have been very innovative in developing a design with which we are delighted. We would recommend them, they are knowledgeable and forward thinking in their approach while offering an extremely professional yet personal service.'
